

SILENT CONFERENCE

IN THE AGE OF DISTRACTION,
THIS NEW TECH IS CHANGING THE GAME

It's no secret that attention spans are at an all time low, and this 'age of distraction' is especially challenging for those who produce, present, and attend conferences and trade shows. Enormous sums are spent to deliver incredible experiences to attendees who seem to barely focus. Whether participating as a vendor, attendee, or speaker, how do we ensure this investment of our time and money in such events isn't wasted? Silent Conference is the answer.

With an innovative approach and proprietary technology, Silent Conference is solving these problems, creating a radically-improved experience for event producers, speakers, vendors, and attendees. Instead of struggling to hear through the haze of distraction, attendees listen to presentations through individual wireless headphones. This methodology negates the need for separate rooms for each speaker, and offers a vastly improved audio experience. Without the loud ambient chatter of a traditional conference, event attendees are able to fully immerse themselves in the presentation. This improved focus allows for increased engagement with the material, and higher rates of information retention.

"For the first time all our employees around the world were able to attend the same event and fully engage with the message simultaneously."

- Conference Organizer, Intl. Bank

"Hosting four speakers inside our busy trade halls meant we didn't have to book extra breakout rooms. Keeping everything together boosted the atmosphere."

- Event Organizer, Leading Supplier of Sanitary Ware

Although the concept of a silent trade show or convention isn't new, past attempts failed due to inadequate technology. With hundreds of channels simultaneously in use and a lack of consistency in the audio configurations used by vendors, these environments were nothing short of a radiofrequency nightmare. However, through exclusive partnerships, Silent Conference is able to avoid channel interference and provide a vastly superior experience by leveraging 30+ HD stereo channels and licensed frequencies.

"I actually felt as if I came away from a talk where I was able to hear every word."

- Delegate, Veterinary Conference

"We love the reusable custom logos on the headsets, the licensable frequencies, and the professional crew. The headsets mean the audiences are more engaged with both the speaker and the content."

- Production Manager, Matrix Solutions

Incorporating this solution does not require additional setup space or infrastructure, and can even provide reduced cost and downtime. Their dedicated team of experts manages the setup and breakdown, and is fully capable of supporting trade shows, conferences, meetings, and conventions of any size. With easy-to-operate, fully customizable hardware that delivers an incredible audio experience every time, event producers, vendors, and attendees agree that in the age of distraction, Silent Conference is here to stay.
