SILENT CONFERENCE

INTRODUCTION

Hello, we are Silent Conference.

Since 2009, we've been making a lot of noise in the conference industry, without making a sound.

When we started, the concept of using headphones at a conference was barely feasible.

Pioneering early event organisers were forced to choose between either expensive and complicated stage monitoring systems or domestic silent disco headphones with limited functionality.

Silent Conference filled this gap by designing professional headphones that deliver premium quality audio to large numbers of people in complicated environments.

Our solutions are crafted to be simple to use, cost effective and customisable for your event.

EXPLAINED

WHAT IS SILENT CONFERENCE?

Silent Conference is a technical twist on the established way of conferencing. It results in a unique and powerful experience.

Delegates listen to the speaker, presentation, or video using individual wireless headphones. There are no loud speakers. The room is silent to everyone else.

To speakers and hosts, the set up is the same as what they are used to - microphones, video and music can all be used exactly like with a traditional loudspeaker based PA system.

The only difference is that delegates listen through headphones.

WHY A SILENT CONFERENCE?

Aside from “we love the headphones” and “it looks cool”, there are 5 main reasons clients enlist the help of Silent Conference...

“OUR DELEGATES HAD SO MUCH FUN
USING THE HEADPHONES. WE WILL DEFINITELY USE YOU IN THE FUTURE”

SENIOR MANAGER- DRINKS SUPPLIER

“HOLDING SMALLER, MORE INTIMATE SESSIONS IN ONE SPACE REALLY WORKED FOR US- OUR DELEGATES LOVED IT TOO”

SENIOR MANAGER,
INTERNATIONAL ACCOUNTANTS

01. HOST MULTIPLE SPEAKERS IN ONE ROOM

Because delegates are listening on headphones, there is no noise pollution. That means that you can have one speaker talking about a particular subject to a group of people, right next to another. Or lots of talks in the same room at the same time.

The headphones offer multiple “channels” so people can choose exactly what they are listening to, which might be different to somebody standing just 10cm away.

02.

“HOSTING FOUR SPEAKERS INSIDE OUR
BUSY TRADE HALLS MEANT WE DIDN'T
HAVE TO BOOK EXTRA BREAKOUT
ROOMS. KEEPING EVERYTHING
TOGETHER BOOSTED THE ATMOSPHERE ”

EVENT ORGANISER,
LEADING SUPPLIER OF SANITARY WARE

02. REDUCE COSTS AND DOWNTIME

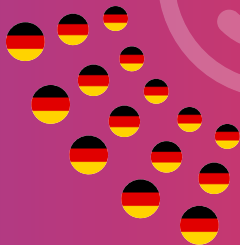

Multiple breakout sessions can be hosted in one space, which means delegates can quickly move from one session to another, keeping everyone together and vastly reducing downtime.

It also means you have a wider choice of venues and environments since you don't have to find somewhere with all the different rooms you'd need otherwise, not to mention the extra cost.

03.

PRESENT MULTIPLE LANGUAGES SIMULTANEOUSLY

“FOR THE FIRST TIME ALL OUR EMPLOYEES AROUND THE WORLD WERE ABLE TO ATTEND THE SAME EVENT AND
FULLY ENGAGE WITH THE MESSAGE
SIMULTANEOUSLY.”

CONFERENCE ORGANISER, INTERNATIONAL BANK

03. BREAK DOWN LANGUAGE BARRIERS

The multiple channel functionality of Silent Conference headphones means that presentations and videos can be enjoyed in multiple languages simultaneously. Use either live translators or pre-prepared, multilingual soundtracks.

When it's important and beneficial to share information with a group of mixed nationalities, this is a great solution.

04

“AS A SPEAKER, IT WAS NERVE-
RACKING AT FIRST BUT BY THE END I FELT PEOPLE WERE REALLY ENGAGED.”

SPEAKER, SALES CONFERENCE

04. CUT THROUGH THE NOISE

Even in the middle of the noisiest of exhibitions or trade shows, it is now feasible to host guest speakers and discussions in a way never previously possible. This provides for huge creative potential, and a rethink of the traditional way of organising conferences and trade shows.

At industry-specific exhibitions, clients have been able to shake up the standard arrangement of trade stands in one hall with talks and guest speakers in other rooms and auditoriums.

Creating calm, tranquil, hubs of knowledge within the trade stand area generates a focal point, breaks up the monotony of shell schemes, and unifies the entire event.

05.

“I ACTUALLY FELT AS IF I CAME AWAY
FROM A TALK WHERE I WAS ABLE TO HEAR EVERY WORD”

DELEGATE, VETERINARY CONFERENCE

05. OPTIMISE DELEGATE ENGAGEMENT

Numerous studies have attempted to quantify the impact of background noise on people's concentration, and ability to absorb audio and visual information.

Results unanimously indicate that where participants experience the distraction of background noise, between 10 and 60% of information is lost or forgotten.

When delegates listen on headphones, the vast reduction in external audio distractions means they become absorbed in what they are listening to, with a significant increase in absorption, understanding and information retention.
